

BRADY•SULLIVAN

P R O P E R T I E S

Brady Sullivan Partners with Dick's Sporting Goods for YWCA

Manchester, NH—April 25, 2018— Brady Sullivan Properties and Dick's Sporting Goods have donated and installed brand new basketball hoops in the newly renovated gymnasium at the YWCA on 72 Concord Street in Manchester. The gym is home to the Special Olympics of NH Winter Basketball Program, Safari Youth Club, INTI Soccer Academy and the SNHU Center for New Americans weekly youth program.

“We see tremendous value in the services provided to our community by the YWCA, and we are happy to have the opportunity to help breathe new life into their space so their good work may continue”, says Arthur Sullivan, principal and owner at Brady Sullivan Properties.

For nearly a 100 years, YWCA NH has been providing programs and services for individuals of all ages to grow, learn, play and heal, regardless of ability to pay.

“We are pleased to have Brady Sullivan Properties and Dick’s Sporting Goods as our valued community partners, and we are grateful to receive their support” says Jessica A. Sugrue, CEO of YWCA NH. “Through generous sponsorships and collaborations like these, we are able to continue offering low and no-cost programs and services to kids in our community.”

You can learn more about YWCA NH at www.ywcanh.org or contact them at info@ywcanh.org to donate or volunteer.

Left to right: Courtney Perron, SNHU Center for New Americans, Jessica A. Sugrue, CEO of YWCA NH and Terry Cote, Brady Sullivan Properties